Preaching Mission

Inspiration, Fellowship Focus Of Interchurch Event

By CATHY McJUNKIN
Staff Writer

Several ecumenical services to be held in November in Asheville have been designed to offer inspiration, Christian nurture and fellowship to area residents, according to organizers of the event.

The fourth Harrison-Shaw Preaching Mission will be held Nov. 10-13 at Trinity United Methodist Church on Haywood Road with Arthur Caliandro, D.D., L.H.D., successor to Norman Vincent Peale as senior minister of Marble Collegiate Church in New York, as guest speaker.

Established in 1982 by Thomas and Mary Jo Harrison of Asheville in memory of their fathers, W.S. Harrison Sr. of Asheville and J. Paul Shaw of Raleigh, the preaching mission was created to "bring the ministry of outstanding religious leaders of various denominations to the people of Asheville, Buncombe County and the surrounding area."

"While the mission is held at Trinity United Methodist Church, the services are interdenominational and are designed to offer inspiration, Christian nurture and Christian fellowship to all people," the patrons have said in describing the event.

"It is our prayer that by uniting in this spiritual experience, the churches of our community will be drawn closer together."

Using the Cross of Triumph as its logo, the mission is "symbolic of the triumph of the Gospel throughout the earth."

The concept of preaching missions such as the one held annually in Asheville is a relatively modern one, according to the Rev. Ralph L. Reed, publicity coordinator for the Harrison-Shaw event.

"Preaching missions are more or less a modern creation and very different from the old-time revivals in that they (the missions) are ecumenical in nature," Reed said.

"North Carolina has several, most of which have been set up by families in honor of or in memory of loved ones. The families finance efforts to bring in distinguished preachers from across the world who would not normally come to the area where the mission is held."

The Rev. Stephen Brown, a former Asheville resident who serves as pastor of Key Biscayne Presbyterian Church in Florida, conducted services during the first Harrison-Shaw Preaching Mission in 1982.

And in 1983, mission coordinators secured Sir (the Rev.) Alan Walker of Australia, a Methodist minister known throughout the world for his dynamic preaching and innovative caring ministries.

Knighted by Queen Elizabeth II in 1981 in recognition of his services to religion, Walker originated the round-the-clock telephone ministry "Life Line," known in the United States and locally as "Contact."

Myron Augsburger, a Mennonite minister in Washington, D.C., led the mission last year, and the Rev. John Claypool, pastor of First Baptist Church in Lubbock, Texas, and a teacher of preaching at Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary, has been booked to conduct the services in 1986.

"Speakers are selected from the whole spectrum of religious leadership," Reed said, "and in keeping with the ecumenical purpose of the mission, ministers, choirs and lay leadership from local churches are invited to participate."

In addition to Trinity United Methodist, area churches expected to participate in the 1985 Harrison-Shaw Preaching Mission include: Abernethy United Methodist, Calvary Baptist, Grace Baptist, Malvern Hills Presbyterian, St. George's Episcopal, West Asheville Baptist, West Asheville Presbyterian and Westwood Baptist.

Reed said the charter of the mission calls for an advisory committee comprised of representatives of various denominations in the community, and an executive committee comprised of Trinity and family representatives to prepare for the event.

A lengthy period of planning and spiritual preparation precedes the preaching mission, he said, and some speakers must be secured as far in advance as two to three years.

"To obtain the type of speakers that we want for the mission, we try to get them at least two years in advance," Reed said. "The contribution of the sponsoring family covers all expenses for the mission and no offerings are taken."

He said the preaching mission not only provides an opportunity for area residents to hear well-known religious leaders, but creates a spirit of cooperation and good will between local churches as well.

"The mission itself makes a contribution to enrich the lives of all who attend," he said, "and it is hoped that this cooperative spirit will carry over into interchurch cooperation in all efforts."

As speaker for the 1985 Harrison-Shaw Preaching Mission, Caliandro is expected to direct his messages to the personal needs of people with emphasis on living successfully and meaningfully in today's world.

The 46th minister of Marble Collegiate Church — established in 1628 — Caliandro is the author of "You Can Make Your Life Count," and has written many articles for "Guideposts" magazine.

"The measure of my confidence in this man may be indicated by the fact that when I sought a colleague minister at Marble Collegiate Church and someone to eventually carry on its work, I was fortunate enough to be led to Dr. Arthur Caliandro," Peale has said of his successor.

"Since I've been privileged to observe Dr. Caliandro's technique over the years, I find him to be a motivator of people — one who effectively stimulates in others a real desire for growth and helps them to learn how to get started in the growing process.

"Dr. Caliandro, a gifted and eloquent preacher, is in the tradition of practical Christianity and its life-changing qualities."

Services will begin at 7:30 each evening and other events of the week will be announced at a later date.

DCOM PLANNING SESSION

The District Council on Ministries (DCOM) Planning Meeting held August 29th brought together fifty clergy and laypersons representing local churches throughout the entire district. Cecil Myrick, Chairman, in his opening remarks emphasized one of the primary purposes of the DCOM is to assist local churches to minister mroe effectively.

A survey sheet was distributed and the group was divided into five sections to enable every person to be a part of the process. Then, assembling in a plenary session, the section chairpersons made their individual report. The concerns were many and the list was long.

Floyd Berrier, Conference representative to our DCOM, presented the program of the conference for the coming year.

With all this information it is now the job of the DCOM at its next meeting, September 19th, to study the many excellent proposals and ideas and develop a program for the DCOM for the coming year. It will be a difficult task.

What was quite evident was the willingness of all participants to do their part in assisting the DCOM to be more effective in meeting the needs of the local churches in the Asheville District.

The meeting closed with a most inspirational meditation by our own District Superintendent.

The outlook for the DCOM looks very promising. What is needed is the cooperation of all local church leaders.

Caliandro Offers Inspirational Word, Just As Peale Did

The New York City tour bus drifted down Fifth Avenue and when it reached 29th Street, in the center of the garment district, the tour guide said, "If you look to your left you will see the Marble Collegiate Church, the oldest church in New York City and the church of Dr. Norman Vincent Peale."

A few years from now, if that same guide is still working, his spiel at that point may be "... the church of Dr. Norman Vincent Peale and Dr. Arthur Caliandro."

Caliandro, hand-picked by Peale as his successor when he retired in October 1984, is making his own mark both as minister of the church Peale rebuilt from near ruin and as an inspirational speaker dealing with motivation, personal growth and coping with everyday problems.

Caliandro is in Asheville this weekend to preach Sunday evening through Wednesday at the Harrison-Shaw Preaching Mission at Trinity United Methodist Church. He said the thrust of his messages here, which will be open to the public at 7:30 each evening, "will be the affirmation of life on positive thinking."

The preaching mission's purpose is to bring the ministry of outstanding religious leaders of various denominations to the people of Asheville and the surrounding area. The services are interdenominational and are open to the public.

A native of Portland, Maine, educated at Ohio Wesleyan University and Union Theological Seminary and through various post-graduate training, Caliandro held a demanding intercity parish in Brooklyn when Peale beckoned him 19 years ago to the Marble Church as his assistant.

The Marble Church was formed in 1628 by the early Dutch. It was the Dutch West India Company's church, organized when the company saw a need for a "dominie" — a pastor — and sent to Holland for one.

"Our church is the oldest continuing congregation in the United States," Caliandro said. "Our line has been unbroken since 1628."

The church has not always been the driving force that it is today. When Peale arrived in 1932, the church had been three years without a pastor and had grown very weak. Under Peale's guidance the church immediately began to grow, and it was there that Peale launched his remarkable ministry.

Today, the Marble Church has 3,000 members. "Our congregation represents a rich mixture of society," Caliandro said. "When the United Nations celebrated its 40th anniversary recently, we noted that our church was a mini-UN. We have people from every conceivable background."

In recent years, many churches in New York City have experienced a resurgence of life.

"Young people are coming back into the church," Caliandro said. "Seventy-five percent joining in the last few years have been under 40. The dominant age within our church is late 20s or early 30s.

"With the great promises of science and technology changing our lives so drastically in recent decades," Caliandro said, "the church has begun again to supply our deeper needs.

"The drug culture, the excitement of numerality — whatever that is — has left people empty," he said. "An old minister told me recently that people need companionship more than anything else."

Billy Graham has preached for years that one of the greatest problems in America, indeed in the world, is loneliness.

"New York is a pagan city," Caliandro said. "There is little in the media to encourage people to go to church. Generally, when people come to New York, they try the bar scene and the sex scene, because they think they have found a new independence. Now, if they try it at all, they go through it faster and turn to something deeper.

"Thoreau said most people live lives of quiet desperation," he said. "There is a deep hunger within the people. It makes the ministry extremely exciting for me."

And he, in turn, makes it exciting for the people. Attendance at Marble Church averages 1,500 on Sundays.

"The dominant aspect of people in our church," he added, "is that they grow. There is an openness about them."

That is a trademark of Peale's ministry, and of Caliandro's.

"Yes," he said, "the basic thrust in my life has been on growth in mind and spirit."

That's what he's coming to Asheville to preach.

PRAY ABOUT EVERYTHING

Do not be anxious about anything but in everything,
by prayer and petition,
with thanksgiving,
present your requests to God.
And the peace of God,
which transcends all understanding,
will guard your hearts and minds in Christ Jesus.

Dear Tom and Mary Jo,

I write to express my own genuine appreciation to your family for the kind invitation each year to the Harrison-Shaw preaching mission, and the delicious luncheon and fellowship together.

I write also on behalf of the Asheville District United Methodist ministers for your thoughtfulness. We are especially grateful this year for Dr. Arthur Caliandro and his helpful insights relative to his own preaching style.

The ministry of your family in this endeavor is surely meaningfully extended throughout all of Western North Carolina.

Dear Tom and Mary Jo:

I do not have the eloquence to properly thank you for the opportunity in participating in the Harrison-Shaw Preaching Mission. It was a great privilege for me and I hope it met your expectations and needs.

You were especially kind to me. In addition to all the gracious and warm hospitality, I deeply appreciated the time with you, especially the evening meals which you so generously hosted. And, of course, you really went out of your way Mary Jo in taking me to the airport. I was impressed by your profound sense of servanthood. You are, indeed, serious and loving disciples of Christ.

Please give my loving best to your children. They are special and it's obvious they feel they have special parents.

I hope our paths will cross again and again. May God continue to bless and use you.

Sincerely,

Arthur Caliandro

My dear friends Tom and Mary Jo:

Just a short note to say Many, Many Thanks! indeed for bringing the Harrison-Shaw Preaching Mission our way once again.

It is something we look forward to each year and Faith and I had the opportunity to take time out from a very busy schedule to be among our many friends and loved ones for all four services in your lovely Church. How happy we are that we did.

It is exceedingly difficult to try and point out all the many highlights as Dr. Caliandro spoke each evening, so if I may, I would just like to comment that only Time and Eternity will tell just how many hearts were so richly blessed by such Glorious and timely messages. We know that it certainly made our entire week much brighter. We have never been disappointed in any of the great visiting preachers that you good folks have had a part in bringing here.

Each of you deserve some kind of Special Thanks! for putting forth your very best efforts in bringing Dr. Arthar Caliandro within our midst. It is simply times like this that I spend listening to folks like him that I learn to love and appreciate that makes this "ole" life really worth living.

Please rest assured that we are fully aware of the time and effort spent in preparation for such an event as this one.

Again, my Sincere Thanks! to you. We are indeed most grateful for your thoughtfulness and kindness in remembering the Church folks of Asheville and it was a real privilege to visit with you once again at Trinity. You both are very Special to Faith and I. It is our prayer that each one of you will be richly blessed, and that God will open new doors and ways for you as some of his most faithful servants.

Most sincerely,

L. C. KEENER, JR. 32°

Dearest Tom & Mary Jo,

Arlen and I wanted to give you both a heart felt thank you for inviting us to the preaching mission recently. You will never know how much of a blessing it was to be ministered to....to be with such sweet and dedicated Christians as the two of you. God has something very special for you...you have a servant's heart and that is pleasing to God. Man may not notice but the Lord does...pleasing God is the most important aspect of our Christian walk.

Uncle Ralph and Aunt Billie love you both and speak so lovingly of you..we pray that time will afford us to get to know you better. However, we do know each other in the spirit...we are a part of the family of God. The Holy Spirit is busy drawing the church, the family of God closer...God is requiring unity of the whole body...not just a few.

God is pouring out His Spirit on all denominations as He promised to do in Joel 2:28,29, "AND IT SHALL COME TO PASS AFTERWARD, THAT I WILL POUR MY SPIRIT UPON ALL FLESH: AND YOUR SONS AND DAUGHTERS SHALL PROPHESY, YOUR OLD MEN SHALL DREAM DREAMS, YOUR YOUNG MEN SHALL SEE VISONS; AND ALSO UPON THE SERVANTS AND UPON THE HANDMAIDENS IN THOSE DAYS WILL I POUR OUT MY SPIRIT". We need the Holy Spirit to be strong witnesses in these last days..let us continue to pray for a mighty sweep of the Holy Spirit.

WE covet your prayers...there are many needs here and we know God is able. We shall pray for you, for your work, for your beloved church and its people. We are called to be laborers in the Harvest Fields..they are ripe..you are certainly God's called laborers...In His Love,

Arlen & Betty Smith

11/19/85 - given me as I started to pray in intercession for others.

Note: I believe these words are to be used in a song..and feel the Lord will give me the tune and many will be blest and lifted up.

WHEN THERE IS NO ONE ELSE TO GO TO,
AND WE KNOW YOU'RE ALL WE HAVE,
WE CAN TURN OUR PRAYERS TO HEAVEN
AND FIND OUR SOLACE THERE.

WHEN THE CLOUDS HANG DARK AND DREARY
AND OUR MINDS CAN THINK NO MORE,
THEN WE REMEMBER YOU'RE OUR SAVIOUR
AND WE SEE YOUR OPEN DOOR.

YOUR HANDS ARE ALWAYS REACHING...
TO EMBRACE OUR EVERY NEED,
YOUR SPIRIT IS ALWAYS TEACHING,
AS ON OUR KNEES WE PLEAD.

COME QUICKLY NOW LORD JESUS,
MY HEART CRIES OUT FOR YOU...
FOR BESIDE YOU THERE'S NO OTHER...
NO OTHER ONE WILL DO.

Retired? Superannuated? Neither fits busy minister

By ELIZABETH H. ROSE

ASHEVILLE — When Ralph Reed retired in June 1984, he told his congregation at Myers Memorial in Gastonia that he preferred the term "superannuated" to "retired." Neither term applies, for he is busier than ever spreading the Gospel and serving people, having begun his ministry as a Local Preacher in 1937, ordained Deacon in 1944, and Elder in 1946.

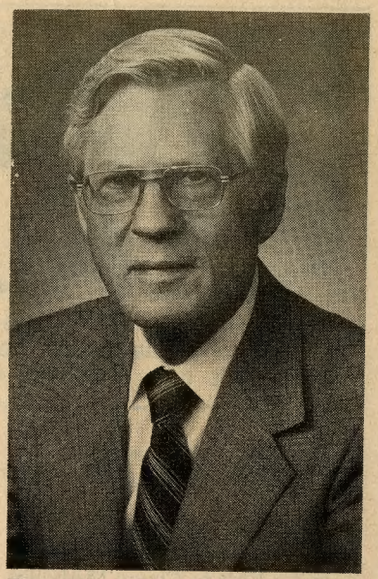
Since retirement he is a member of the Charge Conference of Trinity, Asheville, where he preaches in the minister's absence and assists with weddings and communion. He speaks frequently at "Young at Heart" weekly luncheons, to circles and youth as well as teaching Sunday School classes. He serves on the Harrison-Shaw Preaching Mission committee which brings outstanding preachers to Asheville for ecumenical services. Currently Reed is serving the Yancey-Mitchell circuit, preaching twice each Sunday morning. He speaks from time to time at vesper services and communion services at Brooks-Howell Home for retired missionaries and deaconesses.

Ralph and his wife, Billie, give many hours to the Asheville-Buncombe "Contact" telephone ministry, often taking the 11 p.m.-7 a.m. shift. This is a listening and caring service for the lonely, troubled, and emotionally disturbed. He serves on the "Contact" board of directors and is chairman of their public relations committee.

For nine months after retirement he served as associate minister of Groce Church in Asheville, working in Evangelism and membership enrichment.

Since January 1, 1985, he has been serving as a chaplain at the V. A. Medical Center in Asheville, visiting new admissions, surgery patients and the seriously ill, counseling patients and families, and giving care to the dying and the bereaved. He is on call two nights a week for needed ministry at any hour.

In their almost 50 years of ministry Ralph and Billie Reed have served Siler City Circuit, Mt. Pleasant Circuit, Bessemer (Greensboro), Midway (Kannapolis), St. James (Charlotte), Maylo (Gastonia), Central (Canton), Trinity (Asheville), First (Rutherford), and Myers Memorial (Gastonia).



The Rev. Ralph L. Reed of Asheville.

Retired? Superannuated? Indeed, not! Ralph Reed is a busy, loving, caring, gentle man who loves the Lord and shares this love with all with whom he comes in contact.
